Report Comments

The Qualitative Report containing students' comments is provided to faculty but not to administrators. It is intended to give faculty detailed input on elements to keep or add to their course. If your comments are not helpful, you may want to explain to your students what type of feedback is most helpful to you prior to the evaluation period. For example, some faculty will ask for specific input when they try out a new instructional approach. For more information please see this white paper:

I thought that the class was structured really awesome!

Instructor Enthusiasm Comments

Comments
very good!
Professor Jang is very enthusiastic when teaching the course and every lecture is a treat to attend.

Group Interaction Comments

Comments
the professor usually encourages us to interact on class.
Professor Jang is encouraging and promotes class participation, and tries his best to keep us engaged.

Individual Rapport Comments

Comments
very polite professor and be respectful to each student.
He was always so helpful whenever I, or other students, needed it.
Professor Jang is really helpful inside and outside of class, he even took the time to help me with an assignment when I was having technical issues which were preventing me from continuing, we resolved the assignment in the end and I learned a lot.

Breadth of Coverage Comments

Comments
good.
Professor Jang keeps up to date with his Cyber Security knowledge and our lectures frequently relate to current events and real-world applications.

Examinations/Grading Comments

Comments
feedback is efficient.
Professor Jang's feedback throughout the course really helped me be productive.

Assignments/Readings Comments

Comments
detailed instruction on assignment.

Workload/Difficulty Comments

Comments
good and proper.
The difficulty of the assignments for the course were expected, but whenever I had issues, Professor Jang was available to offer help.

Please provide your overall comments on the course, your learning, and the instructor's teaching.

Comments
helpful for me to learn something about cyber security
Rhongho Jang is the one of the best and most helpful professors/instructors I've ever had at Wayne. I learned a lot and it's very apparent he actually cares about students' learning.
I am really grateful that I had Professor Jang for this course, he made the learning experience really enjoyable and treated everyone with respect, and was available often for help if students needed it. He is one of the best professors in this department.

Additional Comments

Additional comments you would like to convey to your instructor.

Comments
good professor, appreciate his polite and patient attitude to student.
This was easily the best class I took this semester, and one of the best I've ever taken. I learned so much and I'm so glad I signed up for this class.
Thank you so much for taking the pandemic into consideration when reworking the course work for this class. I really wish that some of my other classes had done the same. And thank you for always being willing to extend deadlines and help us whenever we needed it! It's so clear that you're passionate about the material and actually care about us students and our learning. I loved when you shared your research with us! It's so cool what you're doing and I hope that it, and everything else, all goes well for you in the future! Thank you for such a great semester!
Thank you for being a great professor, being understanding, and teaching us about cyber security!
